Ottawa Conservatives Seeking New Moses

Conference Called by Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett To Suggest Agenda For Coming Convention Probably to be Held in June

By THOS. WAYLING
Exclusive To The Edmonton Bulletin.

OTTAWA, April 9.—John R. MacNeil, member of parliament for the Yukon, and Maurice Dupre, former solicitor general, today were selected to chairmen of the Conservative national convention, to be held in Ottawa this summer.

OTTAWA, April 9.—Sixty Conservatives, hailing from the Yukon to the Maritimes, met in room 375 of the House of Commons today. They are seeking a new Moses, a new set of commandments and a new deal. Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, the Moses of 1930, who gave them a new set of commandments and a new deal, called them together.

The set-up now suggests the retiring Moses fell down the mountain in 1930 and heeded his 1930 commandments. The party council washed up his new deal as a mis-fire. His phylion has continued Moses in the peace and quiet of Sinai.

Then to cap the set-up, room 375 was the only place where the party council met. The cause of the progressive party from 1921 until it disappeared. That is, the party council was the Conservatives who have inherited room 375.

The conference has been called by Mr. Bennett who after all, is still national leader of the Conservative party.

And to suggest an agenda for that convention. The time will be July and the place Ottawa.

Various committees will be appointed to prepare for the convention. They may even set up a committee to study the party's platform.

Peaceful staggers are made by western Liberals who they might hand over the present Liberal platform, unless Mr. Bennett makes more vigorous moves in the future.

United States Livestock Industries Protest Against Tariff Cuts

DUTY ON PORK INCREASE NOW IS REQUESTED

Representative Appears Before Reciprocity Information Committee

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Representative of the livestock industry protested Friday against any reduction in tariffs on meat products in the revival of the United States reciprocal trade agreement with Canada.

Mr. J. H. Robinson, of the United States Livestock Association, Kansas City, Mo., said the industry wanted to see duty on pork products increased.

INVITES INFORMATION
He told the committee for reciprocity information "your prior structure invites foreign imports."

"I would like to see a more equitable adjustment made on pork products than is contained in the present tariff," he said.

ASKS PROTECTION
Representative Lusk (Rep., D., Neb.), appeared for livestock producers, declaring, "I don't find a single case of cured beef that is packed with United States meat by United States labor."

Representatives of the United States beef and pork industries in Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma said Friday any tariff reduction on their products would destroy their interests and leave 100,000 persons without support.

MODERNIZE

MUCH ACTIVITY BY REPAIRERS IN CITY HOMES

Next Six Weeks Will See Most Edmonton Residents Spring Cleaned

Hundreds of Edmonton homes are going to be redecorated and repaired during the next six weeks. While most of the work will be done by professional decorators, many will be done by home-bodies who like to get out the paint and wallpaper and putter around. Below are listed a few hints which may come in useful.

COLORED CHIMNEY

When painting the chimney to improve its appearance, why not give it a colorful appearance by painting some of the bricks different colors? Do not make it stiffer by painting them in a regular manner, but just a random brick may be a dull blue, another a rose and then a few brown ones. It gives a very attractive appearance to a drab feature of the house.

HIDING RADIATORS

Book shelves the same height as the radiator and on either side will help to conceal it. When possible, the bookcase can extend across an entire wall. When the radiator is at one end of a wall, a cupboard can be built at the other end for balance. One row of books above the radiator will conceal it further.

PAINTING WEATHER

Good weather is, of course, essential to good exterior painting work but it is moisture rather than temperature which generally causes trouble. Any season of the year when it is dry and the thermometer registers 40 degrees or above is satisfactory for exterior painting.

EXTERIOR COLOR

An exterior color scheme for a medium-sized house has a pale yellow body and trim color, shutters of maroon, porch floor and steps dark slate color. The roof is gray and the chimney is painted body color with a maroon band at the top.

KITCHEN NOTE

A smart effect was achieved in decorating a kitchen by painting the walls medium green to waistline

Suggestions for HOME-REMODELING

This charming sloping roof house adds a wing for an improved kitchen. The five rooms are spaciouly arranged on one floor, with a side-rear porch and separate entry for the kitchen. The widening of the chimney base gives the house more interesting lines and improves the fireplace's functioning.

height and the upper walls light charcoal. The window frames and the trim on the cabinet were casto, unvarnished, or coral.

LOWER CEILING

In a living room with an over-high beamed ceiling, you can lower the ceiling by painting it in a dark tone such as navy blue and staining the cross beams silvery gray. A light tint off white, for instance, is effective for the walls. A dark stain will look well on the floor—and to echo the ceiling color—a rug of deeper blue.

The couch could be upholstered to match the ceiling. Window drapes and fireplace woodwork will be attractive in canary yellow. A wing chair also covered in canary

What's New On The ... RECORDS

BEING A REVIEW OF THE BEST NOW BEING TRANSCRIBED FOR GRAMOPHONES

By JOHN OLIVER—

With spring in the air as a record in the latest past to hand from the RCA-Victor Company contains some material most appropriate to the season.

It is a double-sided record of Native Bird Songs and was recorded from nature by A. R. Brand and the laboratory of ornithology, Cornell University.

Opportunities of studying the notes of feathered songsters come few and far between. One hears a snatch of bird song and it is admired for the moment and is gone. To have such sweet songs preserved on a record is a feature that must commend itself to many music-lovers.

Consequently has made a specialty of such work as is here recorded and those responsible, have made a splendid job.

On one side are the songs of four birds, the Hermit Thrush, the Brown Thrasher, the Wood Thrush and the Whippoorwill.

On the other side are the songs of the Field Sparrow, the Black-capped Chickadee, the Phoebe and the Lark.

The record is welcome both for its unusual nature and for its fidelity. It should find a ready welcome.

Chopin was mainly a composer for the piano and as such has taken his place in the front rank of composers for this instrument. While this status is not altered by the appearance of the Marzke in A Minor, opus 11, No. 4, transcribed for orchestra by Leopold Stokowski and played by the Philadelphia orchestra, it does reveal new beauties in his work.

This is the first of a series of Chopin works which Stokowski has orchestrated and this record reveals the Philadelphia conductor's great accomplishment in this respect. With a remarkable economy of material, Stokowski achieves a delicate painting of color and a sympathetic expansion of the spirit of this outstanding feature of the record and the transcription and the manner in which it is played by Paul Cason, associate conductor of the orchestra, merit the warmest commendation. The performance of the most accomplished Philadelphia orchestra throughout the two sides of the record is of the high standard expected of such an organization.

It is to be hoped that when future transcriptions for orchestra are ready from the pen of Stokowski that they will be readily made available on records as this sample most amply warrants the appetite for more. Victor has rendered a splendid service in bringing the bird songs to the public and in providing an opportunity for hearing the charming Chopin number, an expertly orchestrated and so beautifully played.

AGREEMENT OR WAR'S DICTUM LORD HALIFAX

Secretary Foreign Affairs Urges United Kingdom Face Facts

By GEORGE HAMILTON
Canadian Press Staff Writer
BRISTOL, England, April 9.—

"Agreement or war?" by unimpeachable words Viscount Halifax, secretary for foreign affairs, Friday squarely stated the issue in international affairs as he urged the people of the United Kingdom to face facts.

He appealed to members of the Labor party to restrain their "provocative language" against those responsible for the government of other countries.

"They make agreement between our country and the others more difficult," Lord Halifax pleaded, "and to that extent increase the risk of the only other method of solving differences—which is war."

Great Britain, Lord Halifax continued, would lose no opportunity to establish friendly relations with countries at present inside and outside the League of Nations, whether democracies or dictatorships.

REALIZE SUCCESS
"But," he added in warning, "we realize also that success does not lie in our hands alone—we do not forget that we have accepted and will accept a week or two ago proclaimed alliance to the world both the obligations that this country has accepted under the covenant (of the League) and the specific obligations that we have undertaken to particular countries in certain circumstances."

"This country never goes back on its word and it is not our habit to give assurances that we are not absolutely certain our people would be bound, if called upon, to carry out. These obligations, therefore, we shall fulfil, should need ever arise, to the utmost of our ability."

Britain Assumes Interest In Cable

LONDON, April 9.—The British government today was announced last night, assuming an interest in the equity of Cable and Wireless Limited in exchange for a prior charge on the company's revenue, which the government at present has in the form of rental by post office stations which were leased to the company by the post office in 1928.

Details of the proposed new arrangement are contained in a white paper, submitted with an announcement of a reduction in Empire telegraph rates. Empire governments are to be asked, in confirmation of the policy agreed in 1928, to accord the fullest support and co-operation to the company's expansion of its service.

When the Louisiana sank, 1,198 persons lost their lives.

ELECTRIC COOKING MEETS THE MODERN DEMAND FOR Safety!

If there are any little "helpers" in the kitchen, Safety is always an important consideration when you purchase a Range.

With an Electric Range there is no danger of fingered fingers endangering their lives if they turn on a switch—no loose matches, no consumption of precious oxygen to endanger health of your family. Nothing to burn or explode while you are absent from the kitchen.

Don't wait for a "kitchen accident" to convince you that safety is a feature that you want with your Range. $38

Your Electric Dealer can supply you with a Modern ELECTRIC RANGE on his convenient Budget Pay Plan.CITY OF EDMONTON LIGHT & POWER DEPT.

Taxation Legislation Is Feature of House Session

Corporations and Production Given New Tax Burdens

New Principle of Taxation on Income Instead of on Capital Established as 114 Bills Brought Into Legislature

Legislation providing for increased taxation of corporations and the shifting of taxation to those places where the government claims it can be better borne, were features of the program of the sixth session of the eighth legislature of Alberta, which prorogued on Friday.

Safety Campaign Begins Saturday As Police Start Brake Tests

MAYOR LAUDS KIWANIS CLUB SAFETY DRIVE

Majority of Accidents Can Be Avoided City Head Claims

Giving his wholehearted support to the traffic safety campaign sponsored by the Kiwanis Club April 8 to 23 in connection with the city police department's brake-check drive, Mayor John W. Fry informed The Bulletin that the importance of this movement could not be overestimated.

He congratulated Harry Maddox, president of the club, and also the organization as a whole for its work in connection with the Kiwanis Safety Week drive. Mayor Fry said the committee in charge of the campaign are Harold Morosch, chairman; A. J. Burrows, J. R. Hill, C. W. Gable, D. V. Hinks, Dr. S. B. H. Wilson, R. C. Weyman, E. H. Mohr, A. J. Lyle Nelson, Thomas J. Hanks, Eugene Bland, W. H. McLean, Charles Whelan, Mayor A. J. Burrows, Wm. W. Brown, M. A. S. Wright, and William R. Brown. Mayor Fry said the club is one of the best of the community.

"We believe that no organization could have a better objective than ensuring a greater measure of safety for both motorists and pedestrians, and particularly children," the mayor declared. "If this campaign results in the saving of even one life it will be justified."

"Every day, however, scores of accidents, the majority of which could be avoided if motorists and pedestrians observed the simple rules of safety. Every year dozens of people in Edmonton are injured and sometimes killed permanently. Some lose their lives."

"Death or injury may come in a flash. A few seconds carelessness and its all over. A motorist fails to see another car approaching the street intersection; a headless pedestrian dashes across the road in front of an approaching car; a driver disregards a standing street car at a corner, or his brakes fail in need of effective enough—these and a host of other examples of negligence are factors in the large lot of traffic accidents."

"Last year there were 1,356 traffic accidents, resulting in six deaths and injury to 117 persons. That's a black mark in the city's history—one that can't be wiped out."

PLEA TO PARENTS

"But we are always able to turn over to a clean sheet, and now is our chance to help prevent accidents. I am asking parents particularly to take a little time to teach their children the simple fundamentals of safety on the streets."

"Children should be taught not to run across the streets until they've looked both ways to make sure there is no traffic approaching in the vicinity. They should be taught not to get off a street car and run to the curb until they are that it is safe to do so, and in this connection no street car motorist should open the door to let passengers out."

He Was Late for a Date!

He thought that he was a good driver. His car was in perfect mechanical condition. The road was clear as far as he could see ahead. And he was undoubtedly late for a date. It seemed alright to speed. How was he to know that there were children playing behind that clump of bushes just out close to the roadway a little way ahead?

His foot pressed just a little harder on the accelerator and he felt the powerful machine leap ahead. The needle on the speedometer crept slowly around to 30, 35, 40—and then it stopped.

Suddenly a little figure appeared from that clump of bushes and dashed into the roadway directly in front of the roaring machine.

With sudden horror he jammed on the brakes. But even before they took hold, to bring the car screeching to a stop, it had struck her and hurled her into the ditch beside the road.

He'll never forget the sight of the little, huddled figure, as she stood there, her eyes widened with horror, her hand slowly fluttering towards her mouth, watching death drive towards her.

He'll never forget the dull thud and the tremor which shook the machine as it struck her and flung her to roughly aside, and the screams of her playmates who watched her die.

And then the little, broken, blood-stained body, lying in twisted and pale on the side of the road. She seemed so light—and limp—when he picked her up in his arms.

He still doesn't know—although he has had lots of time to think while he has been in jail—how he ever managed to screw up enough courage to carry her home to her mother. He can still see the frightened, almost sane that rushed down the steps to meet him as he carried the limp little broken body up the walk.

He still wakes up at night hearing the sobbing voice of the young mother who, with the child clinging body pressed close to her breast, accused him: "You killed her! You murdered! You killed her!"

He lies in his bed in prison and stares at the light which burns all through the night—and he remembers that he didn't keep that date he was late for, in spite of that burst of speed.

He lies in his bed in prison and stares at the light which burns all through the night—and he remembers that he didn't keep that date he was late for, in spite of that burst of speed.

He'll never forget the dull thud and the tremor which shook the machine as it struck her and flung her to roughly aside, and the screams of her playmates who watched her die.

And then the little, broken, blood-stained body, lying in twisted and pale on the side of the road. She seemed so light—and limp—when he picked her up in his arms.

He still doesn't know—although he has had lots of time to think while he has been in jail—how he ever managed to screw up enough courage to carry her home to her mother. He can still see the frightened, almost sane that rushed down the steps to meet him as he carried the limp little broken body up the walk.

He still wakes up at night hearing the sobbing voice of the young mother who, with the child clinging body pressed close to her breast, accused him: "You killed her! You murdered! You killed her!"

Constant Watchfulness Named Price of Safety

Constant watchfulness on city streets will reduce the toll of accidents in Edmonton, H. W. J. Maddox, president of the Kiwanis Club when it is sponsoring a two-week campaign for safety driving, declared Saturday.

"The Kiwanis club," he explained, "believes that most people are careful, but are convinced that unrelaxed vigilance could cut down the accident toll still further."

"Realizing the need for action, in connection with the enormous loss of life, the huge financial loss, and relief from the hours of suffering through injury all caused by automobiles and trucks in our city, the Kiwanis Club of Edmonton inaugurates this campaign."

"Our appeal to all citizens to avoid accidents, through careful driving, and greater attention to traffic when walking, will, we believe, have the desired effect."

The public, generally, are careful, but, in moments of forgetfulness, something happens. One thought is to keep before everyone on the streets the ever-present danger. Drive carefully—Walk into the road with caution. A second of neglect might cause untold loss to you and yours.

Be careful—and nothing will happen.

FRIENDLY SCENE IN LEGISLATURE AT PROROGATION

TORONTO, April 9.—(Associated Press.)—Governor Albert Matthews today prorogued the Ontario session at Ottawa's 20th legislature at 3:30 p.m. E.S.T. He gave royal assent to legislation passed at the session which opened February 23 and read the prorogation speech outlining the work done.

When the lieutenant governor had left the chamber, members overflowed from their desks to the aisle between government and opposition benches and exchanged good wishes. Then reporters in the press gallery bombarded the house with bills and other documents accumulated during the session.

Oscar's Mat Trio Puts on a Show

By JACK DEARIN

It's a thankless job, this dizzy business of refereeing wrestling shows, and if you want proof to back up this statement ask Louis Laviole.

Last night at the Memorial Hall Laviole took a sound beating—verbally—and only because he attempted to carry out his duties as an official. Many will claim it was Laviole's attempt to "break" Mossfeldt and Miller that led to Miller's downfall and Mossfeldt's exceedingly unpopular triumph in the main event at Cuthbert's muscle-muscling contest.

In every angle one could hear the disgruntled muttering from fans who would just love to see Laviole in pieces even though Laviole endeavored to coach Mossfeldt along more gently and respectfully than wrestling.

STRANGE INCIDENT

The situation arising out of last night's main bout is a strange one. Many claim Laviole helped Miller, but all know that Louis did not fight in a most serious manner. But still, the fans will insist that Laviole is anything but a good guy. They also claim he was a little better to Miller who deserved better "breaks" for being such a close wrestler. Instead of good breaks, however, Miller suffered defeat in two out of three bouts. Combined back-breakers, body slaps and pinches were the first fall. Up until the time of the first fall everyone thought that Miller was a steady sort of a chap, because Miller had edge and Mossfeldt was kept from being too good. But then, in the second fall, there was a change in the eyes of the fans as Mossfeldt tripped Miller to win the first fall. Miller was blamed, however, for Laviole's decision to let the two-class fight go on as a "break" after a few seconds before the crowd was in a bitter mood.

Still trying to show the fans he was better in the last fall, Laviole let Miller win the last fall after forcing to help the weak Washington grappler out of the ring. For many minutes, Mossfeldt and Miller, who were both in a bad mood, were in a bad mood. For many minutes, Mossfeldt and Miller, who were both in a bad mood, were in a bad mood. Winning the Friendship of a Dog Someone once said to me, "How do you manage to win the friendship of a dog?" Of the many people who own dogs, the few are fortunate enough to have one as a real friend. The person who has a dog as a friend, however, is not the person who has a dog as a friend, but the person who has a dog as a friend.

Chicago Vows to Be Treated Rough

CHICAGO, April 9.—Bruised and battered but defiant, Chicago Black Hawks limped into town Friday night, vowing to "make it tough" for Toronto Maple Leafs at the stadium Sunday night in the third game of the Stanley cup play-off finals.

The Hawks, showing the effects of the rough, losing hockey battle they fought Thursday night with the Leafs in Toronto, might have been the "advantage" tape brigade. They lost the second game 5-1 after taking the first match 3-1.

Elwyn (Doc) Roesch, Hawks coach, who suffered a fractured nose, led a parade of seven players direct from the train to hospital.

Art Wiebe, defenceman, and Roger Jenkins, a wing, carried patches over their eyes. Lefty St. Louis, forward, and defenceman Alex Levinsky carried severe scrap wounds on their faces.

Storm Drives Toronto Leafs From Preston

TORONTO, April 9.—A blizzard drove Toronto Maple Leafs from their Preston training quarters Friday night, forcing them to postpone their game against Chicago Black Hawks.

A hot tipper now the series is held at one win each. Coach Billy Ryan still was not satisfied with the Leafs' performance so far against Hawks.

Bill Watson Sparks Edmonton Offensive

Comets Carry 25 Point Lead Into Second Game in Calgary; Jimmies Excel in Free Shots

Edmonton Comets, through a game but outclassed quintet from Calgary, to build up a 60-35 victory. Edmonton Y.M.C.A. Comets took a strong hold on the provincial junior men's basketball crown at the McDougall school last night in the first of a two-game, total-point series. The second game will be played in Calgary next week.

Comets jumped into the lead in the first few seconds of play as Bill Watson compiled a nice play. They were never headed, leading 27-18 at half-time and then forging ahead to win by 25 points. Comets were far superior to the Calgary Jimmies, working the ball well under the basket and first shooting with deadly accuracy. The Calgarys contented themselves with long shots and had a hard time slipping the ball through the basket, even when close in.

Hot scoring honors for the evening went to Bill Watson of the Comets, who sank nine field baskets, 3 out of 10 in the first half, and 10 out of 15 in the second half. Watson's 25 points were only one to the Calgary Jimmies' 10 points.

In the first half of the game, Comets saw their lead dwindle in the hands of the Calgary Jimmies, who scored 10 points in the first half. Comets saw their lead dwindle in the hands of the Calgary Jimmies, who scored 10 points in the first half.

Among those who plan to be present are Lieut.-Gov. J. C. Bowen, Chief Justice Harvey Major John W. Fry and L. Cairns, K.C., president of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce. Col. A. W. Bannard, M.M., is in charge of arrangements.

Alberta Brief Now In Course Printing Her

The Dominion government by the provincial government, is in the course of printing and is expected to be completed next week, according to Hon. Solon E. Low, provincial treasurer.

Originally it had been intended to present the brief to the Royal Commission, headed by Chief Justice N. W. Rowell, of the Ontario Supreme court, but following disregard of protests by the province of both personnel and terms of reference.

...the presence of the commission, the legislative body, at the special session held on Monday, decided not to submit it to the Royal Commission and at the session prorogued on Friday voted to submit it direct to the Dominion government.

Dead In His Cell

WINDSOR, Ont. April 9.—Methold Jenks, 53, was found strangled by his belt in his cell at police headquarters. He had been held two days for investigation.

Buried In Sawdust

ORILLIA, Ont. April 9.—Night Watchman Charles White, 61, was found dead under a pile of sawdust at a lumber plant where it is believed he was trying to clear a log.

Unlucky Day

GLACE BAY, N.S. April 9.—It was an unlucky day for Dan McLeod. First of all he was sentenced to two months in jail for breaking 14 windows. Then a court officer remembered McLeod had been convicted of a similar offence in January and had failed to make good the damage. Another two months were added.

fare Act, passed by the legislature on Thursday and given Royal Assent by His Honor Lt. Gov. J. C. Bowen just before the house adjourned.

On entering the legislative buildings, the delegation proceeded to the house chamber, where the cabinet ministers met in Mr. Manning's office. Premier William Abernethy was present at the meeting, as were Mr. Manning and Mr. Vallow. Some from the former's office and several of the council chamber for the conference.

SHEPARD SPEAKS

The delegation, consisting of Jim Holly, Jack Nicholson, Pat Burke, Harry Swanson, Harry Hulse, Joe McKinnon, Tom Heving, Jack Cochran, Mrs. Patricia Holly and Mrs. Mary Hulse, were being interviewed by the members of the legislative council. The members of the meeting sat around the table of the legislative building, and called upon a number of speakers from among the delegates. They moved away from the "progressive" men to speak. But, Sheppard accepted the invitation.

A similar invitation extended to several of the delegates, and the watching the orderly demonstration, failed to bring any further action.

Business read: "Work and Wages or Bankruptcy." "We Support Unemployment Insurance." "The Work Act." "Give Us Life a Chance." "McKenzie Must Go." "When—Society." "Kitchener and a Square Deal" and others.

Business speakers of the proceedings included: John L. MacLennan, chairman of the Alberta Credit Board and M.L.A.; Mrs. Edith Rogers, A. D. Feg and L. M. McCredie.

MEETING ORDERLY

After the interview with the members of the legislature, the committee returned and made their report to the meeting. Then, the meeting broke up in an orderly manner and returned to the downtown portion of the city.

"We must consider the women played for the manner in which they conducted their demonstration and parade. It is indeed one of the judgments of their leaders that it was an orderly. In my experience, I have never seen a group of the demonstrators who behaved so well."

Civic Authorities Disdain Walkout

CALGARY, April 9.—Civic authorities here today expressed their disdain for the proposed walkout of the unemployed. They said that the proposed walkout of the unemployed was a "disgrace" and that they would not support it.

Two hundred men are on strike against the city of Calgary, and the city officials are not taking any action against them.

MISSING TOT
FOUND STUCK IN MUDHOLE

Exclusive to Edmonton Bulletin

LLOYD DUNSTON, April 9.—A boy named Lloyd Dunston, 10 years old, was found stuck in a mudhole in a field near his home. He was found by his father, who was looking for him after he had disappeared.

Mr. Dunston said that his son had been playing in the field and had fallen into a hole in the ground. He was stuck in the mud and could not get out.

Mr. Dunston said that he had been looking for his son for several hours and had been very worried. He was relieved when he found him.

Austrians Learn Which Side Their Bread's Buttered On

As Adolf Hitler started his first of Austria making "campaign speeches" to "sell out the vote" for his side in the forthcoming plebiscite on Austria-Germany, cigarette posters such as the one in Vienna, pictured above, promised citizens "bread and butter" if they voted "Yes." German "thunder" in propaganda was suggested by the official ballot shown below, where a great big "Ja" (Yes) contrasts with a tiny one for "Nein" (No) to give a subtle hint on where to place his X. The "election" will be held tomorrow, Sunday.

21-YEAR-OLD CHARGE MAN IN JAIL

Tacoma To Be Extradited
For Alleged Outrage
Against Child

TACOMA, Wash., April 8.—The state of Washington moved Friday to try Fred Bennett, alias Frederic Stoddard, on a 17-year-old criminal assault charge.

Governor Clarence Martin informed Deputy Prosecutor Martin Elliott he had requested Secretary of State Cordell Hull to extradite Bennett when he is released from prison in Manitoba May 23.

Bennett is charged here with an assault on Marie Torka, then nine years old, September 3, 1921. The child was injured from her home, attacked, then placed in a room with her mother.

The child named Bennett as her attacker. Search for him led to Canada several years later.

When an effort was being made to extradite him, however, Bennett pleaded guilty to obtaining money under false pretenses in Winnipeg and was sentenced to prison there in 1928. That prison term is to expire next month.

VETERAN POLICE OFFICER PASSES

CALGARY, April 9.—Veteran of the old North West Mounted Police, Lieut.-Col. A. C. Macdonald died in hospital here Friday. He was 78 years old.

He joined the N.W.M.P. in Montreal and in 1882 came west from Ottawa. After years of service with the famous force, policing the plains and battles in the Indian rebellion of 1885, Lieut.-Col. Macdonald retired and soon after founded the Alberta Provincial Police Force, disbanded some years ago.

He returned from the provincial force in 1917 and was a police magistrate in Peace River and district for 14 years.

Story On Mussolini Banned In Britain

LONDON, April 9.—An edition of the weekly news magazine, News Review, announced Friday the Federation of London Wholesale Grocers Dealers had banned all copies of the current issue presumably because it contained editorial material about Premier Mussolini of Italy.

Mrs. O'Hara answered for her, answered at the interruption. "We have to finish this rubber first."

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

The ANT-LION

IS NEITHER AN ANT NOR A LION! IT IS A CURIOUS INSECT, WITH THE FEROCITY OF A LION, AND A TASTE FOR THE BLOOD OF ANTS.

THE ADULT IS A HARMLESS, WINGED CREATURE... WHOLLY UNLIKE THE YOUNG! THE FEMALE PREFERENCES TO LAY HER EGGS IN A SOIL OF FINE SAND.

by WILLIAM PERKINS

THE EGGS HATCH OUT MINIATURE MONSTERS, WITH JAWS LIKE PINCERS.

THE YOUNG ANT-LION EXCAVATES A CRATER IN THE SAND, AND BURIES HIMSELF IN THE CENTER, WITH ONLY HIS PINCERS SHOWING! SOONER OR LATER, AN ANT DROPS INTO THE PITFALL.

IT STRUGGLES TO ESCAPE, BUT THE INSECT AT THE BOTTOM BOMBARDS IT WITH SAND, AND IT SLIPS SLOWLY BACK... HELPLESS.

THE SLIDING SAND CARRIES THE VICTIM INTO THE VERY JAWS OF THE ANT-LION! GRADUALLY THE PREY IS DRAWN BENEATH THE SURFACE TO BE DEVoured AT LEISURE.

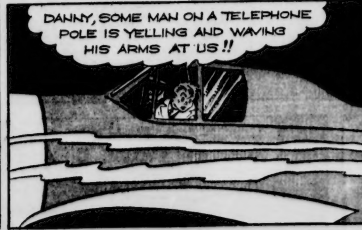

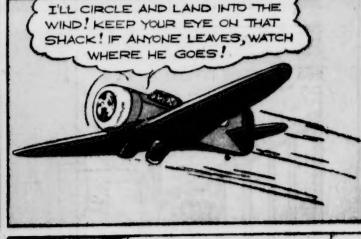

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

GONNA CALL THE POLICE?

FRECKLES AND DANNY ARE STILL SEEKING THE SOURCE OF THE MYSTERY RADIO BEAM THAT LURES PLANES TO DISASTER.

WELL, WE CAN'T JUST GO AWAY AND LEAVE THIS THING UP HERE!

WE'RE GONNA LAND WITH NO WHEELS! I'LL PAN-CAKE IT DOWN INTO A SNOWBANK! WORRIED?

M-M-MY TT-TEETH, DANNY! THEY'RE NOT THE KIND I CAN LEAVE AT HOME IN A GLASS!

AFTER THE SOUTH SEA ISLAND GIRL CONSENTS TO TALK, TRACY LEARNS THAT HER NAME IS NOANA, THAT SHE WAS SHANGHAIED, TAKEN ABOARD BRONZEN'S SHIP, AND TOLD SHE WAS TO BECOME A DANCER IN A FAMOUS AMERICAN RESTAURANT.

ALL I KNOW IS I WAS TO BE TURNED OVER TO A MAN BY THE NAME OF RAMM.

YES—WE'VE LOCATED RAMM! AN UNDERWORLD STOOL PIGEON INFORMED ME THAT HE RUNS A BIG ORIENTAL RESTAURANT. THAT'S WHERE I'M TAKING YOU NOW!

BUT I WANT TO GO BACK TO MY ISLAND HOME!

IF YOU HELP US, YOU'LL GO BACK TO YOUR ISLAND HOME SAFE AND SOUND,—AND THE HEAD OF THIS SMUGGLING RING THAT STOLE YOU WILL GO TO JAIL.

HERE WE ARE! GO INSIDE, CALL FOR RAMM AND PRETEND EVERYTHING IS JUST AS THEY PLANNED IT.

I'LL DO MY BEST.

NOW TO GET UPSTAIRS INTO THE BUILDING NEXT DOOR, WHERE PAT HAS RENTED A ROOM, AND WATCH THIS PLACE.

GOLDFISH ONLY 25¢ FOR A PAIR—...GOLDFISH.

A VERY INTERESTING VARIETY, GIR, —AND ONLY 25 CENTS.

OUT OF MY WAY, CHINA BOY!

HEY YOU! I DON'T WANT YOUR CONFOUNDED FISH! THE ~~man~~ HE MUST BE NUTS.

WELL, I'VE GOT GOLDFISH WHETHER I LIKE IT OR NOT!

COME IN, DICK. —GEE, THIS ROOM IS PERFECT! YOU GET A SWELL VIEW OF THE RESTAURANT— SAY, WHAT HAVE YOU GOT?

AW! A CRAZY GUY HANDED ME A BOWL OF GOLDFISH!

YOU'RE RIGHT, PAT! WE CAN SEE INTO THE BACK ROOMS OF THE PLACE PRETTY WELL!

SAY— ONE OF THESE FISH IS SICK— HE CAN'T SWIM. HEY! COME HERE, DICK!

SEEMS TO BE LOADED DOWN... HE CAN'T RISE FROM THE BOTTOM.

HM! THERE DOES SEEM TO BE SOMETHING STICKING OUT OF HIS MOUTH!

LOOK! A TIGHTLY ROLLED PIECE OF PAPER.

DICK! BE A FISH! CATCH OUT!
